

Write a paragraph that describes how you learned to read. Write this as a first person story. You may include a description of a parent or teacher or some other character. You may include some dialogue. You may include a description of the place where events occurred. Let the reader know something about your motivation and your feelings about your experience.

This should not be shorter than 7 or 8 sentences.